2002 Award for Teaching Excellence, Professional Development Committee,
College of Humanities and Fine Arts
2004-2005 Who's Who among America's Teachers
2006 Board of Regents Award for Teaching Excellence

GRANTS:

National Science Foundation Grant #DMI-9561266, 1996-1997.
Screening users of virtual reality systems for after-effects such as motion sickness and balance problems. Awarded 3,000.

National Science Foundation Grant. 1994-1995.
Temporal Factors and Contrast Sensitivity of the Elderly.
awarded 3,800.

National Aeronautics and Space Administration Grant#9-18659, 1993-1994.
Evaluation and changes in dark focus of accommodation. Awarded $5,000.

Innovative Teaching Grant 1993 - College of Humanistic Studies.
Awarded $1,000.

Brooks Air Force Base Contract #F416224-93-C-5006, 1993.
Augmentation of basic attributes with tests on temporal acuity.
Awarded $3,346.

National Aeronautics and Space Administration Grant#2320-001, 1992-1993.
Development of a Portable Dark Focus Instrument. Awarded $10,000.

National Science Foundation Grant #ISI-9160623, 1992.
Perceptual Speed, Switching, and Temporal Acuity Factors in Cognition.
Awarded $5,000.

Innovative Teaching Grant 1992 - College of Humanistic Studies.
Awarded $754.

Committee on Institutional Studies and Research 1990-91. Awarded $1,500.
