Introduction:

The President’s Awards for Diversity and Inclusion recognize extraordinary efforts for diversity by Murray State University (MSU) employees and students. The purpose of the awards is to recognize institutional change agents who foster success for historically underrepresented populations, work through a lens of appreciation for diversity and advance an inclusive community for all at MSU.

Eligibility Guidelines:

Nominations will be accepted in three (3) categories: faculty/exempt staff, non-exempt staff, and students.

Faculty/Exempt Staff

1. Nominees must be regular faculty members at MSU as defined by Section 2.1.1.1 of the Faculty Handbook, adopted September, 2012, or full-time exempt staff as defined by Policy II.M of the Personnel Policies and Procedures Manual, revised September, 2012.

2. Awardees will be eligible to receive another award five years from receipt of a previous award.

3. Should a member of the Commission on Diversity and Inclusion (review agent) be nominated and elect to pursue the award, he/she must abstain from participating in any portion of the Commission’s work pertaining to the award from that point forward and until the selection process is complete.

Non-exempt Staff

2. Awardees will be eligible to receive another award five years from receipt of a previous award.

3. Should a member of the Commission on Diversity and Inclusion (review agent) be nominated and elect to pursue the award, he/she must abstain from participating in any portion of the Commission’s work pertaining to the award from that point forward and until the selection process is complete.
Students

1. Nominees must be a full-time undergraduate or graduate student at MSU as defined by Chapter 5 of the Academic Bulletin.
2. Awardees are not eligible to receive another award.
3. Should a member of the Commission on Diversity and Inclusion (review agent) be nominated and elect to pursue the award, he/she must abstain from participating in any portion of the Commission’s work pertaining to the award from that point forward and until the selection process is complete.

Nomination Process:

1. Faculty, staff, students and alumni may submit nominations. Only one nomination is needed to place a candidate’s name in contention for the award.
2. Persons wishing to nominate someone for a President’s Award for Diversity and Inclusion should submit the following information to the Commission on Diversity and Inclusion at msu.pcdi@murraystate.edu:
   a. Full name of nominee;
   b. Category of nomination (faculty/exempt staff, non-exempt staff, and students) and nominee’s title if employed by the institution; and
   c. Justification of why the nominee deserves the award (limited to two pages, typed single-spaced).
3. At the close of the nomination period, each nominee will be requested to provide:
   a. An overview of the individual’s diversity activities (limited to three pages, typed single-spaced);
   b. Up to three additional supporting letters (the nominator’s letter will also be used in the overall evaluation) from faculty, staff, students and alumni (at least one letter must be from an individual having first-hand knowledge of the individual’s work in this area); and
   c. Current resume or curriculum vitae.
